FOREWORD

Once again the MUSTANG goes to press to bring another year of student life at George Mason into pictorial review. Our purpose in so doing is to give each of us a few of the highlights in one high school year.

When the time arrives each year to compile the MUSTANG, many hours of work are put forth by the entire student body and more special efforts are rendered by the yearbook staff. We realize that we cannot be perfect, but our efforts are concentrated to giving each student the kind of annual that he wants.

We hope that we have not failed this year to bring a more vivid outlook of George Mason through the following pages.

THE ENTIRE SHOW assembles for the final curtain call and at the same time wishes Mr. Ritzman, the Guidance Counselor, a happy birthday.

THE FACULTY SHOWS OFF

Hidden Talents Displayed in October Revelation

For a group of supposedly non-talented people the Faculty put on a one-night show that brought the house down with laughter. A variety show highlighted by individual acts of all teachers was climaxed as pictured on the following page. Mr. Maher acted as Master of Ceremonies and Mr. McClellan played the part of the visiting Superintendent who found the school somewhat awry as the faculty endeavored to better itself through modeling courses, quartet singing, and dramatics. The progress made in that direction was evidenced by the performance.

SHIEKS AND HULA GIRLS pass through the halls to advertise the forthcoming spectacle.

SPEAKING OF PICTURES

MASTER OF CEREMONIES Mr. Maher introduces typical school day activities to Mr. Schmitt as portrayed by Mr. McClellan.

BLOOD
HOUND

HIGHLIGHTS OF HIGH FASHIONS brought out new designs for Assistant Principals as modeled here by Dr. Edwards assisted by her faithful "bloodhound." The glass enables her to see as far as the Library of Congress.

LOVELY HULA HANDS wave to tunes of tropical music. Carole Roelofs leads the Coach, Mr. Foster, and Mr. Turner in a South Seas dancing lesson.

ROMEO AND JULIET move to the hills when Mrs. Cromer and Mr. Phillips give their interpretation which probably caused turmoil in the graveyard of the Bard.

PIE IN THE FACE for Mr. Reed when he tells Mrs. Macks she doesn't know how to cook.

CHOIR DIRECTOR new to the school is Mr. Howell, seen here conducting the Chorus, one of our activities.

STUDENT

SENIOR DRAMATICS CLUB members learn lines for the play to be presented as a student activity.

UNDER DIRECTION OF GOVERNMENT CLASSES, STUDENTS CAST VOTES IN MOCK ELECTIONS.
